

be home in L.A., and the next he's being cuffed and jailed like some kind of vigilante? Then this afternoon we watched in shock as he was brought into a federal courtroom--in hand and leg shackles!--to await his arraignment on charges of "trespassing" and "parading." Thank God they allowed him to not wear a jail-issue jumpsuit like the criminals he was lined up with, but keep on his traveling clothes, a t-shirt, sweats, & sneakers. The actual criminals on deck before Siaka were drug dealers, illegal arms possessors, and a felon convicted of assault with a deadly weapon. Siaka Massaquoi does not deserve to be anywhere near that courtroom. It was a comfort to see the message on the back of Siaka's t-shirt: "Jesus Saves." Jesus literally and figuratively has your back, Siaka. We prayed for you in the gallery. Please pray for Siaka's swift release to go home and remain here in L.A.

I would love to see a list of all occasions where the FBI sends agents out to arrest people for misdemeanors committed at protests years earlier. Something tells me that the list is short and includes none from the BLM protests of 2020. Or those who held Riley Gaines for hours in San Francisco. Or the countless people who have been terrorizing cities across America.

These are intimidation tactics, not the actions of a legitimate law enforcement agency.

The Post Millennial
@TPostMillennial · Follow

Fulton County judge gives $500 fine, no jail time for rioters who burned down Atlanta Wendy's during BLM riots

thepostmillennial.com/fulton-county-...

